Progress toward Goal

1. Please comment on the overall progress toward this goal:

At a minimum, the math, English and Science departments have developed common assessments. What were previously called Common Core standards are now referred to as California State Standards. With District-wide focus on the Alignment project, we took a step back to look at course outlines and how they correspond to the new standards, compare notes amongst teaching peers, and collaborate on how to address all the standards.

2. To the best of your ability, rate the percentage to which this goal has been achieved:

1-25%

26-50%

51-75%

76-100%

3. What information is missing in order to measure the progress toward this goal?

We need more specific information from all departments as to what extent common assessments have been developed and are being used. Dan will follow up with department chairs and report back at the next meeting.
